

Texting for Datings

Near the beginning of the party tell everyone to pull out their cell phones.
Give 3 minutes for guest to text anyone in their phone.

"I am at a Tupperware Party!

If you need anything or would like to have a party,
Let me know ASAP! We both win a gift if you do".

Then you let them keep track... every positive response gets them a gadget for them and the friend. If someone dates a party they both win a small free piece of Tupperware (dating bowl). If they have 3 or more positive texts they should have a party!

Another version would be to have them take a picture of the best sale item and text it to friends asking if they would like to get in on the special price. Any order text back during the party wins them a gift and if they have 3 or more positive text back... they should have a party!
